“Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord:” Lamentations 2:19

Last month we talked about being honest with God during our prayer time. I would like to continue on with the rest of the article from “Getting Honest with God” on cfaith.com that talks about the POWER of POURING OUT Your Heart in PRAYER. When was the last time you really got serious with God and let Him move on your heart and in your life?

The last part of the article talks about how to “Clean Out the Clutter.” If you're sensing a barrenness in your prayer life, you may need to do the same thing as Lamentations 2:19 speaks about. You see, your soul is like a container. It has many things inside it. Most people just try to relate to God from the surface of that container, so their relationship with Him remains very superficial.

Those people remind me of a teacher I had in seventh grade. She was an extremely unique person and one of the most memorable things about her was the closet in her classroom. She packed it so full she couldn't open the door all the way because if she did, a mountain of stuff would come tumbling down upon her. Whenever she brought a coat to school, she would open the closet just a crack, jam the coat inside and slam the door! Some people's souls are like that. They're cluttered up with spiritual debris and emotional junk they've accumulated over the years. What they need to do is open the door to their hearts and let everything just fall out before the Lord. In other words, they need to get very honest before God.

Pouring out your soul is like cleaning out that cluttered closet. Some things just need to be confessed, put under the Blood of Jesus and thrown away forever. Other things - cares and worries - need to be given to God in faith. Still other issues may just need to be discussed with the Lord, then put back in your heart in a more orderly fashion.

If your "closet" hasn't been cleaned out for a while, it may take you more than one prayer session to reach that sense of completion. If so, that's fine, set aside time each day and keep going back to the Lord until, with the help of the Holy Spirit, you get the job done. From then on, keep your soul uncluttered by communicating to the Lord often - honestly, openly and always straight from the heart.

Isn't it time that we connect with the POWER of PRAYER and BELIEVE and RECEIVE all that God has for the world! ~ Be Blessed - Donette
